CELEBRATING 13 years as The Life Raft Group

The Life Raft Group

The Life Raft Group became a formal non-profit on June 10, 2002. Our one-of-a-kind patient registry began. The first formal patient gathering was held in Cambridge, Mass.

2002

The first "official" Life Fest took place in Orlando.

2004

The LRG Research Team was created.

2006

GIST SPECIALIST DIRECTORY

The first international GIST medical specialist directory is up and running on the Life Raft Group Web site, www.liferaftgroup.org. The initial entries include GIST specialist physicians from 12 countries and can be sorted both alphabetically and by location (country and state).

The first GIST specialist directory was created.

2003

The LRG held the first Pediatric GIST Conference in Montreal, Canada.

2005

A Word from our Executive Director, Norman Scherzer

The nighttime summer sky is dark, clear and cloudless. Suddenly a burst of brightly colored light explodes across the sky. Fireworks illuminate the dark night, bringing promise and hope.

The journey of the Life Raft Group mirrors this. In 2000, a group of men and women with a deadly cancer were without hope. In the summer of that year, a new diagnostic test to determine the presence of an enzyme called c-kit ushered in a clinical diagnosis for a cancer called Gastrointestinal Stromal Tumor (GIST). The next light in the darkness was a new oral targeted drug called STI-571 that had an amazing breakthrough in treating another rare cancer. A clinical trial for GIST was started for a small number of patients.

An informal group of these patients came together to share their experiences and their hope for the future. That was the humble beginning of the Life Raft Group.

In 2002, we became incorporated as a non-profit organization. The milestones we have reached are like fireworks in the sky: illuminating the GIST community with research, education, support and advocacy.

Now, 13 years after the formal start of the LRG, and 15 years after the development of the first viable treatment for GIST, we can celebrate our milestones together. But it is not enough. Fireworks are transitory. We need to create new paradigms in the war on GIST. We can't sit back while many patients are resistant to treatment.

We have so much to celebrate in 2015! The LRG has been a formal non-profit for 13 years, our GIST Awareness Day and #ShowUsYourRare campaigns united our global community in raising awareness and we recognize 15 years since imatinib, "The Magic Cancer Bullet" was developed. We've come a long way!

Dr. Jonathan Trent presented LRG's first webcast.

2007

The first Virtual Tumor Board was held in collaboration with the NIH. The GIST Cancer Journal was published.

2014

The LRG joined OVAC and CTTI. GIST Kids was created.

2015

The first NIH Pediatric Clinic was held. GIST Clinical Trial database was created.

2008

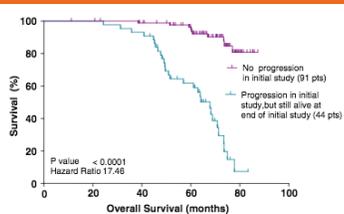

The first GDOL was held in Miami.

2012

The new LRG website was launched.

2013

LRG's first research study was published in Journal of Gastrointestinal Cancer.

2009

The first Alianza GIST Meeting was held.

2010

LRG presented a long-term follow-up study at CTOS.

2011

CELEBRATING Our Second GIST Awareness Day

From Iowa to India, our second successful GIST Awareness Day celebration brought together members, medical professionals and friends of the LRG in person and via social media to raise awareness about GIST. It was a true celebration of the power of community.

CELEBRATING 15 years of lifesaving treatments for GIST

Without the development of STI-571, which became Gleevec, there would be less to celebrate today. It is an unprecedented story of innovation, persistence and courage which led to the development of other lifesaving treatments such as Sutent and Stivarga, paving the way for future discoveries.

2001

May 10, 2001 - FDA approves Gleevec for CML in the US - approved in two and a half months- the fastest drug review in the agency's history.

2002

February 1, 2002 - FDA approval for advanced GIST

2005

2005 - Sutent clinical trial ends early due to efficacy

2000

Initial clinical trials for GIST conducted by researchers with dramatic results.

2004

March 1, 2004 - Sutent (SU11248) clinical trials

Prior to 2000

Patients with GIST were often misdiagnosed with leiomyosarcoma. Patient had no viable treatments. Many were on their deathbeds.

1990s

Three events converge to birth the age of targeted therapy:

- Members of the Ciba-Geigy (now Novartis) drug development team, Alex Matter, Nick Lydon, Brian Druker, Jurg Zimmermann and Elisabeth Buchdunger develop compounds to target CML
- Brian Druker discovers that one of the compounds, STI-571, was effective in killing CML cells.
- Hirota and Kitamura's group discover c-Kit gene mutations prevalent in most GIST cases, which are later found to respond to STI-571

2006

January 26, 2006 - FDA approves Sutent

Gleevec was the start of the targeted therapy approach to cancer treatment. Who could have predicted that it would pave the way for other cancers to be classified as a chronic illness instead of a terminal one?

2013
February 25, 2013 - Regorafenib (Stivarga) approved for advanced GIST

2007 2009 2011 2013 2015

2008
FDA approves Gleevec for adjuvant treatment.

The FUTURE:
Promising research conducted by the LRG Research Team. Clinical trials for new drugs and combination therapies.

2012
FDA extends approval for adjuvant treatment with Gleevec to three years.

AS WE CELEBRATE, WE PAUSE TO REMEMBER THOSE NO LONGER WITH US.
